Brave

Hilary Weeks

There are moments when you feel it and you know,
Something amazing is happening within your soul,
And nothing can hold back what's in side you.Let it move you, let it lead your heart, don't be afraid to let your self believe in who you are,
cause today your gonna be,Brave, you are brave!
Let your brave come through and let it define you,
You were meant to be brave.Get your shoes, grab your courage open the door, your about to see a you, you've never seen before, and Heaven will be there beside you.In the moments when the walls seem way to high,
trust your instincts, breath and start to climb, Cause you have always been...Brave, you are brave!
Let your brave come through and let it define you,
Cause you were meant to be brave.When you think you can't,
Strong when you have fallen,
Bold enough to stand and be...Brave. Brave. Brave, you are brave!
Let your brave come through and let it define you,
Cause you are meant to be...Brave, you are brave!
Let your brave come through and let it define you,
Cause you are meant to be brave.There are moments when you feel it and you know,
something amazing is happening within your soul,
And nothing can hold back what's inside you.
