Justin Prime & Sidney Samson

stirring at water's edge cold froth on my twig
my mind in whirls
wanders around desire
may i, can i or have i too often
craving miracles
may i, can i or have i too often now
craving miracles
craving miracles
no one imagines the light shock i need and i'll never know from who's hands deeply humble dangerous gifts as such to mine come may i, should i or have i too often
craving miracles
my romantic gene is dominant and it hungers for union universal intimacy
all embracing

craved miracles
crave
waves irregularly striking wind stern in my face thunderstorm come
scrape those barnacles of me!
may i, may i or should i too often crave miracles
all my body parts are one as lightning hits my spine sparkling
prime runs through me

revive my wish inviolable
may i, can i, should i or have i too often
craving miracles
