Always

Julian Lennon

Julian Lennon - Always Lyrics

There ain't no turning back
There ain't no easy ride
And there's only one direction
In order to survive

And as we disgrace the truth
Love has lost its way to greedy rules
Sometimes this world's so cold
Where is all this hatred coming from?

I wish it was easy but fear will divide
Always, always
Until we aspire to change and get it right
Always, always

And when will you realize, my friend
That there's nothing left to lose
Open up your arms, lay down your guns
It's the endless game of fools

I wish it was easy with few of divide
Always, always
Until we aspire to change and get it right
Always, always

I know that we'll make it
I know we'll see the light
Someday, one day

Until we get it right
The universe will cry
Until we get it right
Religion will divide

The politics will ride
The blind will lead the blind
An empire for a night
[Incomprehensible]

And still you wonder why
And hate will multiply
Hate will multiply
The universe will cry

Always
Always
