What a Single Word Can Do

Deep Blue Something

What a single word can do
To bring out all the flowers in you
Needing hope and joy today
Holding on but you embrace
Swirling in two and by due
What a single word can do
To bleed all the life out of you
Leading hope and joy astray
Holding on but you embrace
Blighting every flower that grew
And we wait to hear the news about you
Girl, we hope and pray that you'll pull through
What a single girl can say
To brighten up a dreary day
Lighting all the clothes on fire
I lay on a funeral pyre
What else can I do?
And we wait to hear the news about you
Girl, we hope and pray that you'll pull through
