

After the Love Has Gone

David Benoit & Russ Freeman

Here we are, we're perfect strangers
After all this time, there's no more you and I
But don't look for blameWe've come so far to different places
And now to try to live a lie would be a crime
It's better this wayAnd we may not have tomorrow
But there's always yesterdayAfter the love has gone
Only fools carry on
We've been hurting for so long
And we both know that it's wrongAfter the love has gone
Then we just don't belong
We both know that it's wrong
After the love has goneIt's clear this far, nothing to say now
We sang alone and tried so hard to play
The game, it all ends the sameJust words, no more to fill these spaces
When love is gone, it's only wrong to try again
I know it's a shameThat we may not have tomorrow
But there's always yesterdayAfter the love has gone
Only fools carry on
We've been hurting for so long
And we both know that it's wrongAfter the love has gone
Then we just don't belong
We both know that it's wrong
After the love has goneHere we are, we're perfect strangers
Now to try to live a lie would be a crime
It's better this wayAnd we may not have tomorrow
But there's always yesterdayAfter the love has gone
Only fools carry on
We've been hurting for so long
And we both know that it's wrongAfter the love has gone
Then we just don't belong
We both know that it's wrong
After the love has gone
