

Die Alone (feat. Jason Caesar)

Shane Eli

The world is waiting, finding freedom
People praying, hoping, dreaming
Of a world that ain't so cold
A place to save your soul
But you know, i know, we were Born to die alone
Die alone

Put your hands to the sky make the rain fall Lost a father, made a million dollars on the same call Kings and peasants live together in the same walls Poor folks rich folks Sing the same song Everybody wanna ring ex lebron packing heat Pushing rocks to the mong??
And the night gets dark for the dawn
But the sun's scared to come up now for too long

Light of the moon bodies stacking in the tomb Even civilized folk kill in the right mood Laws of the jungle always applied to a mankind on a mission Turn the city to ruins Getting paid is like sex, everybody want to do it candles at the 'till the wit burns too and if the answers are true then who you're gonna save yourself or the world cause were running out of grey

The world is waiting, finding freedom
People praying, hoping, dreaming
of a world that ain't so cold
A place to save your soul
but You know i know we were Born to die alone
Die alone

Gunpowder on my lips when she kissed that shell
I could place the smell
I saw God trying to catch me through the clouds as I fell
But I was lost in the 'Of hell

His brother, Dark angel Justice in the balance gets tangled

Like a charm on a chain kids kill for ainâ€™t the best life but itâ€™s still yours marble on the mantle thatâ€™s my new decor pricks with the spoils, or rape killinâ€™..

Black gold in the soil ran blood in the oil Canâ€™t tell black â€™.from tin for you and folks say it ainâ€™t safe no more why chase the leaders ainâ€™t a race no more thatâ€™s why the heavens have faith no more Salvation better come, Canâ€™t Wait no more

The world it's waiting to find the freedom
People praying, hoping, dreaming
of a world that ainâ€™t so cold
A place to save your soul

Die alone
The world is waiting, finding freedom
People praying, hoping , dreaming
of a world that ainâ€™t so cold
A place to save your soul
Die alone
Die alone
