I've Lost the Moon

SayWeCanFly

Here I am
With blue eyes and heart in my hand
Ready to give it away
But after tonight, I think I'll think twice
Before I go and say things like
"Trust me, I swear you can trust me"
That's just been my way
Of hoping that someone will love me
But this lovesick boy
Is getting sick again
So this time around
I know in my heart that I mean it
I've lost the moon
While trying to count the stars
I've lost my mind but that's okay
'cause I've been trying to fix my heart
And if I spend all of my time
Searching for angels in the sky
I'll miss the one who's right here by my side
There you are
My only hope, my second chance
I'm hoping you'll give me this one last dance with your heart
I know, I know it might be hard
But I will keep you in my arms
I've learned the dangers of straying
Along with the dangers of waiting
Let's do this together, I'll be yours forever
Or I'd do my best to be
Or I'd die trying
I've lost the moon
While trying to count the stars
I've lost my mind but that's okay
'cause I've been trying to fix my heart
And if I spend all of my time
Searching for angels in the sky
I'll miss the one who's right here by my side
And after all of this, I hope you know
That I will love you so
And I won't let you go
