

Motto

Less Than Jake

Have you ever felt that
Something, you know that
Something that keeps you sane?
And you can't explain why --
But you know it's what's Left inside you and I know that
It's that something you know
That something that keeps me sane --
And I can't explain why
When it's all I have
I have left to hold onto. And when I say it's Everything from my highest hopes
To my dumbest schemes you'll never know
What it means to me,
I'm just a reason away,
From something that keeps me sane.
