Disconnected

5 Seconds of Summer

Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-ohLife's a tangled web
Of cell phone calls and hashtag I-don't-knows
And you you're so caught up
In all the blinking lights and dial tones
I admit I'm a bit of a victim in the worldwide system too
But I've found my sweet escape when I'm alone with youTune out the static sound of the city that never sleeps
Here in the moment on the dark side of the screenI like the summer rain
I like the sounds you make
We put the world away
We get so disconnected
You are my getaway
You are my favorite place
We put the world away
Yeah we're so disconnectedOh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-oh
We're so disconnected
Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-ohHands around my waist
You're counting up the hills across the sheets
And I'm a falling star
A glimmer lighting up these cotton streets
I admit I'm a bit of a fool for playing by the rules
But I've found my sweet escape when I'm alone with youTune out the static sound of the city that never sleeps
Here in the moment on the dark side of the screenI like the summer rain
I like the sounds you make
We put the world away
We get so disconnected
You are my getaway
You are my favourite place
We put the world away
Yeah we're so disconnectedTurn off the radio
Those late night TV shows
Hang up the telephone
And just be here with meTurn off the radio
Those late night TV shows
Hang up the telephone
And just be here with meI like the summer rain
I like the sounds you make
We put the world away
We get so disconnected
You are my getaway

You are my favourite place
We put the world away
Yeah we're so disconnectedI like the summer rain
I like the sounds you make
We put the world away
We get so disconnected
You are my getaway
Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-oh
