

Disconnected

5 Seconds of Summer

Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-ohLife's a tangled web
Of cell phone calls and hashtag I-don't-knows

And you you're so caught up

In all the blinking lights and dial tones

I admit I'm a bit of a victim in the worldwide system too

But I've found my sweet escape when I'm alone with youTune out the static sound of the city that never sleeps

Here in the moment on the dark side of the screenI like the summer rain

I like the sounds you make

We put the world away

We get so disconnected

You are my getaway

You are my favorite place

We put the world away

Yeah we're so disconnectedOh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-oh

We're so disconnected

Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-ohHands around my waist

You're counting up the hills across the sheets

And I'm a falling star

A glimmer lighting up these cotton streets

I admit I'm a bit of a fool for playing by the rules

But I've found my sweet escape when I'm alone with youTune out the static sound of the city that never sleeps

Here in the moment on the dark side of the screenI like the summer rain

I like the sounds you make

We put the world away

We get so disconnected

You are my getaway

You are my favourite place

We put the world away

Yeah we're so disconnectedTurn off the radio

Those late night TV shows

Hang up the telephone

And just be here with meTurn off the radio

Those late night TV shows

Hang up the telephone

And just be here with meI like the summer rain

I like the sounds you make

We put the world away

We get so disconnected

You are my getaway

You are my favourite place
We put the world away
Yeah we're so disconnectedI like the summer rain
I like the sounds you make
We put the world away
We get so disconnected
You are my getaway
Oh oh o-o-oh, oh oh o-oh
