

Glamour Boy

The Guess Who

Glamour boy
Get your costume on, you got 'em lined up, waitin' for you
Glamour boy
You got 'em standin' in the aisles so don't hang 'em up

For twenty-five thousand dollars you can look like a woman tonight
For twenty-five thousand dollars I think it'll work out right
I think it'll work out, uh-hah
I think it'll work out
Oh, you never know how to write it
Think it'll work out

Glamour boy
You been tops for a while with a million-dollar smile
Glamour boy
You got rave reviews and you're front-page news

For thirty-seven thousand dollars you can look like your sister tonight
For thirty-seven thousand dollars I think it'll work out right
I think it'll work out, uh-hah
I think it'll work out
Oh, you never know how you'll write it
Think it'll work out

So spin with the archer now
And laugh in his face as he cocks his bow
Steal from his mistress
As she's makin' love to your family
And be aware, that there's not many there
Who want to take time to sing and play an honest song for the people no more
C'mon, take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight
Don't you want to take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

Ladies and gentlemen, a warm welcome, if you will, for the most phenominal group of the century... Ricky and The Balloons!!

Glamour boy
You really had your fill and it's all downhill
Glamour boy

You got tales to tell when you see your old friends

For forty-nine thousand dollars you can look like a woman tonight

For forty-nine thousand dollars I think it'll work out right

I think it'll work out, uh-hah

I think it'll work out

Oh, you never know how you'll write it

Think it'll work out

[Chorus:]

You can't fool 'em

Take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

They're gettin' smarter

Take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

Don't you want to try and take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

C'mon and take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

Mmm, take time to sing and play an honest song for the people tonight

Lyrics powered by lyrics.tancode.com

written by CUMMINGS

Lyrics Â© BUG MUSIC O/B/O SHILLELAGH MUSIC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>