Crazy Times

The Lamplighters

It seems it's always the crazy times
You find, you'll wake up and realize
It takes more than your saline eyesYou're cold that way, that's why you say
The things that you say
You can't attract the things that you lack You're trying in vainIt seems it's always the crazy times
You find, you'll wake up and realize
It takes more than your saline eyes
To make things rightSpiral down, you've broken your crown
You don't feel like a queen
You've seen the proof but you're still crying wolf
You'll never believeIt seems it's always the crazy times
You find, you'll wake up and realize
It takes more than your saline eyes
To make things rightTry to climb a broken ladder
Grip the missing rungs and fall down, down, down, down
Seems sometime ago you said, "This wouldn't last"
And now you sit here cryingBesides your bed, feel left for dead
You kneel in the darkIt takes more than your saline eyes
To make things rightIt seems it's always the crazy times
You find, you'll wake up and realize
It takes more than your saline eyes
To make things right, right

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/