Drivin'

Tassel & Naturel

Annie wakes up every morning about six o'clock
Thinks about her family, Annie won't talk
Tried to reason with me slowly, morning's not my time
Must have seen me feelin' lonely towin' my line yeah
You will find me right inside, she yesThe way she shines is born to be yeah
The way she smiles is home to me
She's one to see, oh you must believe
The way she shines is home to meAnnie loves to hear the ocean, the one thing I know
He likes to think about her daisy and move real slow
Never talks about herself much, sewn up tight
Wants to get a straight answer, roll on by now
You will find me right inside, she yeahThe way she shines is born to be
The way she smiles is home to me
She's one to see, oh you must believe
The way she shines is home to meThe sun is trying to come out, the sun
Everything happens for all the right reasons
The weight of the world, carry the world in your heartAnnie sleeps with all the angels, rides the tide
She always keeps her hands on me, right by my side yeah
You will find me right inside, she yeahThe way she shines is born to be
The way she smiles is home to me
She's one to see, oh you must believe
The way she shines is home to me
Is home to me, home to me
