

Loser of the Year

LoveSick Radio

Never should have walked you to the door
Never should have told you those 3 words
When you said you wanted less I wanted more
Isn't that the way it always works
Why did I call you yesterday
you never called me back
I Wonder if you wonder if I'm okay

Pre Chorus

And All I have left are photographs
Scattered on my floor and torn in half

Chorus

And I hate myself for falling in this far
Every minute wanna be where you are
Put my fist through through the wall cause it's so damn clear
I'm holding on cause it's so hard to let go
Drivin by your house staring at your window
When you close your blinds if you look down here
You'll see the loser of the year

Verse 2

So I hear your going away to school
Saw your friend Stacy out last night
I tried to play it off like it was cool
But It was killin me inside
Thought about how we crossed that line
Sneakin out so we could be alone
It all happened right at the wrong time

Pre Chorus

All I have left are memories
To remind me of what we'll never be

Chorus

And I hate myself for falling in this far
Every minute wanna be where you are
Put my fist through through the wall cause it's so damn clear
I'm holding on cause it's so hard to let go
Drivin by your house staring at your window

Before you close your eyes could you look down here
At the loser of the year

Bridge
I should move on
I should give up
Did I give too much?
Was I not enough

Out Chorus
Either way I hate myself for falling in this far

Holding on cause I never want to let you go
Outside your house standin at your window
Before you close your eyes could you come down here
At kiss the loser of the year
