

Inferno

Nasty Savage

Poles lie twisted in the ruins of Warsaw's shattered line
The Wermacht's strength has left it's mark with lightening speed and power
 The West responds uneasily to face another war
 The Axis lords plan their assaults for their territory gains
 From frozen arctic wastes the battle rages in the in it's fury
 To blazing desert sands the land is overrun with blood
 On land and sea in the air the swords of nations clash
 The West is stabbed a vicious blow and writhes in agony
 BlitzkriegContinental Europe falls under Axis occupation
 But England stands infallible despite a constant rain of fire
 The Deutsch luftwaffe fail as the RAF stands strong
So the Fuhrer's eyes look to the east to Russia endless plainsThe Russians lines collapse as panzers smash the Eaten Front
 But far too large a battlefields ends all hopes for victory
 Outmatched by vicious weather, Moscow's walls remain secure
 And an army's strength and might lie dead and frozen in the snow
