

Cross My Mind

Tall Heights

When I am surrounded I hear myself responding I hear myself all tongue-in-cheek match the fear of falling
When I am surrounded I find myself resplendor
I find myself a trawling line, trapping all she tenders
I find myselfThere's less inside me now
There's less inside me this time
Steal my breath and cross my mind
There's less inside me now
When I am surrounded I feel myself resounding I feel myself ashamed no doubt never end so boundly
When I am surrounded I see myself receding
I see myself a tile floor, pattern worth repeating
I see myself
There's less inside me now
There's less inside me this time
Steal my breath and cross my mind
There's less inside me now
