

Ablaze

School of Seven Bells

How could I have known
The God of my youth would come
Crashing down on my heart
I thought that I knew love
But love was a scornful thing
That fed on the fading flame that held
The world together for me
And when it died I fell apartThe day we met
There was a new fire
Whose heart had been
Drowning for so long
When I was dark
You found a glowing ember
And sent my world
Into a blaze againHow could I forget
You saw the stars in me
When I had sunk into the black
You never thought to leave
You were the drug to bring me out
From a crushing sleep
You told me all you saw was diamonds
You told me that 'til I believedThe day we met
I was a new fire
Whose heart had been
Drowning for so long
When I was dark
You found a glowing ember
And sent my world
Into a blaze againAnd set it all ablaze
And set it all ablaze again
You set it all ablaze
You set it all ablaze again
You set my heart ablaze
You set it all ablaze again
You set my heart ablaze
When I was dark
You set my heart ablaze againThe day we met
I was a new fire
Whose heart had been

Drowning for so long
When I was dark
You found a glowing ember
And sent my world
Into a blaze again

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>