Changed

Sylver

All the long and lonely nights
He played you for a fool
All the signs that you denied
Trying to keep coolNever let him see you cry
Smiling, standing strong
Never look into his eyes
Pretending nothing's wrongHe says he's changed
But will you ever know
This doubt is killing you
The doubt of letting go
He says he's changed
But will you ever know
The truth's inside his heart
It tears you all apartMemories you can't forget
All your trust has snapped
The humiliation hurts
My card house has collapsedNever let him see you cry
Smiling, standing strong
Never look into his eyes
Pretending nothing's wrongHe says he's changed
But will you ever know
This doubt is killing you
The doubt of letting go
He says he's changed
But will you ever know
The truth's inside his heart
It tears you all apartIn the springtime of your life
Love can cut you like a knife
Never leave your dreams behindHe says he's changed
But will you ever know
This doubt is killing you
The doubt of letting go
He says he's changed
But will you ever know
The truth's inside his heart
It tears you all apart
