I'm Coming Back

Lalah Hathaway

Never dreamed that it would be like this
Never knew that I could ever miss
I've been thinkin' bout the way it was
How we used to share each other's loveI can feel you callin' out to me
I can sense the love you really need
Don't know how we got to be this way
But I do know something's got to changeI wanna be there for you through the thick and thin
To the very end
So when you feel the need for love
Reach out and call meI'm gonna' be by your side, day and night
Through the rest of my life
So open up your heart for me
I'm coming back for youI'm coming back just to give you my love
There's a part of me that lives in you
I'm coming back just to give you my love
Loving you's the best thing I can doWas a time when lovin' used to be
All the subtleness of you and me
Now with every passing day I find
It was a fool's mistake to run and hideI can feel you in the air I breathe
You're the center of each thought I think
Now there's only one thing left to do
And that's to find my way back to you.I wanna' be there for you through the thick and thin
To the very end
So when you feel the need for love
Reach out and call meI'm gonna' be by your side day and night
Through the rest of my life
So open up your heart for me
I'm coming back for youI'm coming back just to give you my love
There's a part of me that lives in you
I'm coming back just to give you my love
Loving you's the best thing I can doI'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming backI'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming back, I'm coming back
I'm coming
