Fault The Police (I Don't) Lyrics Freedom is a state of mind,

A mind is a state of being,

Stay the Fuck out of my mind and my being. I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run got of my short leash

I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run they divide and descead I don't cry when the police die cause they probably deserved to,

Run around with a badge and a gun

And they god damn fuck with everyone.

Inforce rules made by fools,

Violence and fear there tools

They dress to impress with there laws they arrest

And they leave us powerless I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run got of my short leash

I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run they divide and descead We have created a reality based on fear where a terriost a ganster or a police can take away your freedom or your sense of security at any time. I don't cry when a

Gangster dies cause he probably deserved to,

Run around with a bag and a gun

And they god damn fuck with everyone,

Inforce rules made by fools

Violence and fear there tools

They dress to impress thinking fear is respect

And they leave us powerless. I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run got of my short leash

Cause the people that run they divide and descead A society that incarartes there own population for any minor infraction where there is 100's opo 1000's of pages and pages of laws and reason for the district attorney and the local juristiction and the justice system to put its entire force to removing an individual from his family connection and make him sepreate from the tribal earth. I don't cry when a terriost dies cause he probably desevered to,

Run around with a bomb and a gun,

And they god damn fuck with every one.

Inforce rules made by fools,

Violence and fear there tools.

Bombs fall from the sky

And a mom as she cries as she watched her babies die. I don't fault the police

Cause the people that run got of my short leash

I dont fault the police
Cause the people that run they divide and descead
