Back to You

Fighting Instinct

I just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand newI'm sitting here, far away from You
I've tried so hard to know what I should do
It's all been tried and all has failed
To bring me back to where I once livedI just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand newI'm so tired that I can't fight anymore
I feel as though I've turned and shut my own door
I've prayed so hard, hoping that You care
But then I turn and find You are there
I find You are thereI just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand new
I just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand newWell, I've been to this place before
Out on this edge, so afraid to look down
Broken down and torn
I'll find my way to YouI just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand new
I just want to find my way back to You
Where love is strong and feels brand new
