

Gone

Dikta

never been out here on my own never felt so quite alone i thought i heard you on the phone i wish i heard you on the phonei felt the cold inside my bones a feeling i have never known
i thought i heard you on the phone
i wish i heard you on the phonei didn't know how to proceed this pain i'll never ever need i see you walking through the door i hear you walking through the doormaybe i'll get up to speed and find a way to stop the bleed
i see you walking through the door i hear you walking through the doori never thought i'd see your face again i'm here for you my friendi never thought
i'd see your face again
please stay here my old friendi pictured this a thousand times before now i don't have to close my eyes no morei never thought
i'd see your face again
let's stay here 'til the enda broken window in my soul i never thought i'd get this role have i lost all my control?

Lyrics provided by <https://damlyrics.com/>