Coldest Winter

Matt Cab

I guess it's that time of year
When the clouds come our way
And all my blue skies
Have fade into gray
Now the rains pouring down, and I'm soaking wet
Coz baby you left and now there's only regretSince you've been gone, I'm hurting now
I need to move on, but I don't know how
I wish that the wind, would take me away
Back to your love, to yesterdayFeels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (here without my love)The days keep passing by
But it feels like times frozen
Coz girl you moved on
But I'm standing here broken
Even when I'm awake
It seems like I'm dreaming
Coz you disappeared and I still can't believe itSince you've been gone (since you've been gone), I'm hurting now (I'm hurting now)
I need to move on, but I don't know how
I wish that the wind (wish that the wind), would take me away
Back to your love, to yesterdayFeels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (here without my love)No kiss goodbye, you packed your bags
And suddenly, walked out of my life
But girl where'd you go?
In such a rush
Why couldn't you stay?
Just for a whileFeels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (coz I'm without your love)
Feels like the coldest winter (here without my love)
