

Pleasureseeker

The Brent Flood

I am just a pleasure seeker,
Living for no higher cause.
I am just a pleasure seeker,
Living for no higher call.

I'm a bubble in the stream,
These whims and these directions comfort me,
But I haven't had the rhythm, baby, since it was taken from me.

The engine's failing, we go down
And you're so sorry, everybody's sorry
We just love no less than we desire
To dare me to go higher.

I was threading heavy water,
And you were sitting by the pool.
I was threading heavy water,
And you were sitting by the pool.

Fishes at my feet, and visions above me
Bristle, dismal, all for you.
When you're with me for a minute only,
Then you were weeping like phony wad.

The engine's failing, we go down
Baby, and you're so sorry, everybody's sorry
We just love no less than we desire
To dare me to go higher
To dare me to go go.

The engine's failing, we go down
And you're so sorry, everybody's sorry
We just love no less than we desire
To dare me to go higher
You're so sorry, everybody's sorry.

It's not like you're the queen of hearts,
You were the walrus from the start
I'm a "why" that can't be sort out

And you're so sorry, everybody's sorry

The engine's failing, we go down
And you're so sorry, everybody's sorry
We just love no less than we desire
To dare me to go higher
