Xymox

We walked till the sunlight died
How could I breathe without your love
Like others we all fight
Against the cruel, cruel timeA hundred times a year the wind blows
A hundred times a year the wind blows
Through my skin, through my skinAll the choices and many voices
Keep on telling me
It's you, Evelyn, it's you, EvelynWe talked about wrong or right
I couldn't agree, I had to shout
Sometimes we all must fight
Against the cruel heart of doubtA hundred times a year we find out
A hundred times a year we find out
By experienceAll the choices and many voices
Keep on telling me
It's you, Evelyn, its you, EvelynYou keep the rain from falling
You keep the rain from falling
Down on me, Evelyn, EvelynEverything will die for you
Everyone will cry for you
Evelyn, Evelyn, Evelyn, EvelynYou keep the rain from falling
Down on me, yeah yeah yeah yeah
Evelyn
