

Absent (feat. Derek DiScanio)

Rarity

You think you're an angel,
but heaven's shown you out,
because your heart's in the city,
and your head's up in the clouds. You don't have the time for friends or life.

You just want to push your bounds,
so come on and figure it out.

I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me. Don't think too hard.

I'm lying on the ground.
You're panicking and lost now.

Don't lose your cool, because nothing lasts forever. Take it back three weeks.

You were just eighteen, barely living a life at all.

And now the paychecks turn to alcohol.
You don't have the time for friends or life.

You just want to push your bounds,

so come on and figure it out. I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me. Don't think too hard.

I'm lying on the ground.
You're panicking and lost now.

Don't lose your cool, because nothing lasts forever.

You tore me down with all the negativity.
(Now you're in the gutter all alone) With nothing.

So shape up and find your way back home.
We're all ghosts in your eyes.

Around you, but cast aside.
We're all ghosts in your eyes.

I'm lying on the sheets as you're crawling underneath me. Don't think too hard.

I'm lying on the ground.
You're panicking and lost now.

Don't lose your cool, because nothing lasts forever.
