TIred Of Waiting

Lyres

tired of waiting
I've been waiting up all night
tired of waiting
I've been waiting since midnight
tired of waiting
just to give you an insight
tired of waiting

I've half a mind to walk away and half a mind to stay I'm tired of waiting I'm tired of the lies, baby too many broken promises am I the only one who cares I must be dreaming are you for real today

oh, look at the bed we made woe-betide the friends that I betrayed god only knows the price I paid you can't imagine
I gave you time and space but love still leaves you cold, no time to waste let me be your saving grace

alright
tired of waiting
hate to see you so uptight
tired of waiting
let me give you an insight
tired of waiting
with the benefit of hindsight
tired of waiting

when your father ran away to sea he was running to be free I know the feeling
'cause you put the hurt on me I try so hard to compensate all you do is make me wait times are changing you can lean on me

but I just can't keep pace with the rumours that forever sweep this place let me say it to you face
waiting waiting for you girl - to give me a sign

I'm so tired so tired of waiting I've always been yours when will you be mine

tired of dreaming so tired I'm begging don't treat me this way just give me a sign

don't want to fight, girl can't sleep at night, girl let's make it right, girl you're all that I wanted in this world
