

I Still Live At Home

Spymob

I read your name and interests
And I got a funny feeling deep inside
We had some things in common

You said you'd been out of the whole scene for a whileI guess were supposed to meet

It said so on a printed sheet

Theres just one thing that you should know

I still live at home, I still live at homeIts not so bad
A door leads right own to my basement bedroom from outside
Upstairs, they dont care

When my friends drop by for surprise visits late at nightI guess were supposed to meet

It said so on a printed sheet

Theres just one thing that you should know

I still live at home, I still live at homeIf we went back to my place, I would light up scented candles

No one would dare disturb us, wed be all alone

And if things did get serious, it would be convenient

To walk right up the stairs and have you meet my folksI guess were supposed to meet

It said so on a printed sheet

Theres just one thing that you should know

I still live at home, I still live at home
I still live at home, I still live at home

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>