Layback

Kwabs

Sing me song, lend me a rhyme
Pass the time of day
Make me a truth, play with my mind, while my time away
For what it's worse, I didn't ask
I only willed your heart to make it lastBreathe, remember what it's like to layback, remember what it's like to layback
Breathe, remember what it's like to layback, remember what it's like to laybackSoft as you walk, day after day
You keep a man clean
I watch as you sleep, fighting your dreams in your world unseen
Run for the hills, run for you life
Make your escape, make to the skiesBreathe, remember what it's like to layback, remember what it's like to layback
Breathe, remember what it's like to layback, remember what it's like to laybackHere we're standing hand to heart
I can feel no change
There's a fire we need to start
From your love and pain
Here we're standing hand to heart
I can feel no change
There's a fire we need to start
From your love and painBreathe, remember what it's like to layback, remember what it's like to layback
Run for the hills, run for your life
Make your escape, make to the skies
Run for the hills, run for your life
Make your escape, and make for the skiesRemember what it's like to layback
