

Time to Live

Uriah Heep

Let me see the sunshine, let me feel the rain
Let me go, where I wanna go
Well I wanna smell the flowers, see the dawn again
Find those friends I used to know
Find those friends I used to know Well I spent twenty long years in a dirty old prison cell
I never saw the light of day
If you could understand, oh that kind of livin' hell
That's the price I have to pay, oh yeah
That's the price I have to pay They said, "I killed a man" but I never told them, why?
So you can guess what I've been through
And so for twenty long years I've been thinkin' of that other guy
And what I saw him do to you
What I saw him do to you, listen So when tomorrow comes and I walk outside that door
Try to understand the strain
But if you smile that smile, I know I couldn't ask for more
I know I'd do it all again, yes I will
I know I'd do it all again Yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah
Oh yeah
Do it all again, do it all again
