

Where You're At

Ultimate Spinach

Well you feel just like crying when you rise
And everyone knows you've got crocodile tears in you eyes
And no one will give you sympathy for all of your lies

So you go around acting spaced out on a cloud
The only time you feel good is when you're hidden in a crowd
So you may as well mourn yourself and go around dressed in a shroud

Find out where you're at
and then let's be known
The way you act it's plain to see
You're doing it all for show

And you want everyone to know that you're feeling bad
So you talk about all the rough times that you've had
But it always ends up being you that's feeling bad

Find out where you're at
and then let's be known
The way you act it's plain to see
You're doing it all for show

And shouldn't you do some growing go away
And don't come back until you've got something real to say
Cause you're playing a game and baby life just ain't that way
