When The Light

Day Of Fire

One hundred miles to drive, a word that whispers in my mind
I've found that truth still rhymes sometimes
A soul searches for signs, the highway smiles with our headlights
A Savior smiled in my head
When the light shines on my face, the world becomes so small
When the night finds me this way, I know I'm not alone
When the light shines on my face
A parable is told of seed that fall beside the road
When other ones are sown, a thistle grows to choke the rose
And the good ground shows a vine that grows upon the wall
The vine of life will lead us into a love that frees us
When the light shines on my face, the world becomes so small
When the night finds me this way, I know I?m not alone
When the light shines on my face, the chains are broken off
When the light shines on my face, when the light shines on my face
With me come one and all, follow me to this sacred place
Follow the love that falls on every heart to wash away
Every wrong and fault, every bitter thought today
You can find freedom, you could be saved, you will find freedom
When the light shines on your face, the world becomes so small
When the night finds you this way, you know you're not alone
When the light shines on your face, the chains are broken off
When the light shines on your face, when the light shines on your face
When the light shines on my face
