Lover's Moon

Jack Tempchin

Yesterday winter spoke
And told me you had gone
I guess I should've known
You wouldn't stay too long
I've never been closer to the sea
I've never been closer to the sea
Went to the widow's walk
To see if you'd returned
Walked 'til I couldn't speak
And all my words had burned
I've never been closer to the sea
I've never been closer to the sea
Do I speak too soon
Under the lover's moon?
So I keep lookin' out
The waves keep me alive
I serenade every night
Just waitin' for a sign
I hope that they send you
Back to me
I hope that they send you
Back to me
Do I speak too soon
Under the lover's moon?
