

Three Hundred

The Stereo

it's a true story, two in the morning you pulled me out of bed so we could go bowling met at the alley, I made a turkey it never works but the possibility is always there simple hesitations undermined two weeks later you're my valentine and when we fall it's fine perfect moment please don't end tonight I got my strike on the colored pin my crutches, I don't need them hallelujah, I'm saved, can I have an amen? like all the best passages underlined swimming with you in the summertime
