

Thanx for Stayin'

Reggie and the Full Effect

My friends could say that this was fun
While sickly I'm staring out a window
I can see this other than chasing
Something that I always wanted you to know All of this will have to end someday
The time will come when nobody's leaving
Shut your eyes with me, again and again
And think about just what you believe in I think I understand these thoughts
I'm thinking everything's a feeling
Lay in bed, all day just to be with you
Talk all night while staring at a ceiling Came up with this off of a notion
Still can't sleep 'cause of all the stupid motion
Want you with me, so you to see this
Say it again and know that I mean it I won't give up on you
You know that's what I'm sayin'
Tell me, you know it's true
Thank you for always stayin' Please say you're near
Not far from here
When I'm away
Be back one day My friends still say that this is fun
And I sit here staring out a window
I can say now this is worth the call
In the morning to tell you something you should know Don't need a break when its all done
Doing something that I always dreamed of
I can say for sure that everything is fine
When you're screaming out, something I won't give up on you
You know that's what I'm sayin'
Tell me you know it's true
Thank you for always stayin' I won't give up on you
I won't give up
Please hear me what I'm sayin'
