

The Truth of Trumpets

Alove For Enemies

I will survive through all this strife, and as the day grows older, so do I, and as the ashes fall, and cover your eyes, and stitching your mind closed This war enflames, have you chosen your side, I have chosen God I, fight this with, I fight this with God on my side forever and you just shun Him to make your life seem guilt free And I cry for you, and I cry for you
He gave his life for you
He gave his life for you
