Big Dipper (live)

Built to Spill

Once
When I was little someone pointed out to me
Some constellations but the big dipper's all I could see That brontosaurus must have stood a thousand miles high
That brontosaurus laying on its side up in the skyBottoms up and this time
Won't you let me be?
Bottled up but this time
Won't you rescue me?
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said to meJack thought it twice and thought that that that made it true
Some brains just work that way
that's what chemicals can do
He thought he'd have a beer
he thought he was alone
He thought an Albertson's stir fry dinner would make his apartment a homeBottoms up and this time
Won't you let me be?
Bottled up but this time
Won't you rescue me?
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said to meI thought I bored me but I learned to think like you
Now nothing bores me that's that nothing is thought throughBottoms up and this time
Won't you let me be?
Bottled up but this time
Won't you rescue me?
Thought it out and this time
It's all I can see
You should have been here last night and heard what the big dipper said
