Madam Me

Alkaline Trio

The sunrise fills your eyes, cannot hear your cries
Pleading, "Please just go away, I can't take another day of this"

No surprise, a surplus of lies, freed from the skies
Is there something that I missed? Can't even take another day of thisLower than piss, have you ever felt like this?

She can't recall the last time she avoided it Lower than piss, have you ever felt like this? Judging by your eyes like crystal balls

Madam Me is predicting that your answer will be yesThe sunrise burned out your eyes, failed to apologize

As it was eating at your face

Took your smile away without a trace of it

Warmer than piss, have you ever felt like this? Just might take a fever to encounter it

Knee deep in shit, there's no avoiding it

From your knees, you're coated brown

To your toes there is no sound like this And I will keep you warm in Hell

And I will keep you warm in Hell

And I will keep you warm in Hell
And I will keep you warm in Hell
Way down in Hell
