

Take Me Back

Kongos

I talk of six while forgetting five
Can't even taste if my food's alive
I'm watching music that I can't hear
Staring down some invisible fear And once again the question's asked
I answer "yes" but the moment's passed
I'm guess I'm always tomorrow-bound
How many more till I'm underground? Oh oh I remember now
Too far below to turn around
Too bright a light to let go now
Take me back my friend
Take me back on home Now what I'm saying is nothing new
This repetition's right on cue
A wise man said you're amused to death
Too much talk, too much wasted breath You're overjoyed and over-fed
Over-sexed, you're almost dead
Gotta work gotta stay awake
God I'm tired can I take a break Oh oh I remember now
Too far below to turn around
Too bright a light to let go now
Take me back my friend
Take me back on home Oh oh I remember now
Too far below to turn around
Too bright a light to let go now
Take me back my friend
Take me back on home Oh oh I remember now
Too far below to turn around
Too bright a light to let go now
Take me back my friend
Take me back on home

Songwriters

JOHN JOSEPH KONGOS Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>