

Desert

Sayde Price

And I would like to think that when
You blink the scene is gone.
And I would like to think that when
You stop the words, well it cuts the cause.
And I'm about to find such a fickle frame of mind,
And I'm about to find such a fickle frame of mind.

And is it you that was a basin or am I
Just unchanging?
And is it you that was calling or am I
The one who is falling
From the tip top, well it looks so high
In a desert that's bone dry.
And I will carry with all of my mind,
What you give me, well I'll hold it upright.
And is it you that was a basin or am I
Just unchanging?
And is it you that was calling or am I
The one who is falling

And am I the one who is falling?
Will you be the one who will call?

Lyrics submitted by Chloe Jay.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>