

Drifters

Paul Weller

'Il always find my way back home
Through back streets dull and bright
In the shadows I hear your voiceIt calls me on

I can't get lost
It calls me onTo catch my breath
I lean against a wall
The wall feels warm

From the late afternoon sun
Even drifters stop sometimes
If only for the world to catch up

You call me on

I can't get lost

It calls me on

I can't get lost

It calls me onI fell asleep in that same bus shelter

The dappled light broke my slumber

Even drifters sleep sometimes

If only for their dreams to awake

It calls me on

I can't get lost

It calls me on

I can't get lost

It calls me on
