

A Sudden Death

The Organ

day after day , they go they go to gain just a little more control and when they took yours away i couldn't sleep at all i lay in bed for days i died a sudden death i made an awful mess i didn't stand a chance i didn't stand a chance 'cause when we were our best i could care less if people bred themselves to death oh, but now that you are gone i just know that everything is wrong don't leave me alone now....
