

Skinny Jean

Bobby Brackins

Yeah, you got knee high boots to hide focaccia fruit
You better think twice about the soy milk drink, babe
You got a patent handbag and solid state rags

You won't think twice about the bill, will you, baby? Should I be the one to say that you don't need it Skinny

Jean crushed a Kenyan roast bean

Raoul devours another organic buffet

They're so preservative free to keep their smokescreen Should I be the one to say that you don't need that Style guide never would proclaim that you don't need it They say you like it sundried, tell me is that right?

They say you like it sundried, tell me is that right? Skinny Jean loves Brazilian roast beans

Raoul wood fires a tandoori pizza today

Special filter gonna keep them both out of harms way Should I be the one to say that you don't need that

Too tired to survive the day, a brew might fix it Skinny Jean, we'll all die sometime

They say you like it sundried, tell me am I right again?

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>