Another Kind

My Superhero

two people done searching but both are still looking out to find another kind i do look forward to meeting you but don't think that i'll be seeing you remember when i used to try remember when i used to call you name and it always sounded the same and if never felt that way maybe you'd be there today let's burn this nice picture and see if we can remember what it was and who it was did i look forward to loving you i do remember knowing you could be mine another time or could you be blind should i foget your name cause it always sounded the same will it always be this way i cannot stand here today
