Confusion Zero

Dogwood

I can't explain it, you can't contain it
Hope it takes you quick
Tried on your own, your future's alone
Why can't you see the mess you're in?The story is old, the ending is bleak
Your body is strong and your mind is so weak
You think that you'll last, I give you a week
Although this is sad, your problems not uniqueThe choice now is yours, we set it before
How much do you have to lose?
They've got you by the neck, your life now in check
It's too late to turn back nowJust another stat, just another name
Just another face and another shamed
They heard you cry but nobody came
Tell me who's to blame?And something that's out there is tearing my soul
I tried to defeat it, it swallowed me whole
Now I can tell you that something is wrong
You won't believe 'til you follow alongYou'll find yourself when you truly believe
Open your eyes and let your heart receive
