

Locked in Closets

Solange

When I was just a girl I felt just so alone
Locked myself in closet thinking, If I was the only one
Dim light shining on my room
Locked up in this old cocoon Look at me, I'm just a girl
Still feeling so alone
Looking at myself thinking, best to come and easy go
Street light shining on my room
Locked up in this old cocoon And all I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you When I was just a girl I wore a thousand lives
In and out of searching for the thing that makes me feel alright
Ten black moments in my room
Diamonds shimmers from the moon And now I'm just a girl living in the city life
Took what I needed from this town and getting down at night
Street light shining in my room
Getting out the suns up soon And all I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
All I wanted was the dream of being in love with you
