

The Strangest Thing

The Amazing

He will always carry the strangest things
That I've ever seen and
Try to bury the oldest friend
Hide nowhere now
The things he knew was instantly
Put down to the ground
Then the sun burst through the long trees
Facing him
And all those old stories come to think
All those lies and
I guess you waited endlessly
Thinking it was past
And they will stare at the lake show
With black eyes like it's a soldier thing
Strange the promise high and mighty
Strangers become
Said he'd drive us, hold us around him
Have nowhere
