You've Changed

Flaw

We've been through this beforeCompromise With me agree right now Useless cries I'm telling you just how Paralyzed There is nothing I can do I realize I liked the other youYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictHypnotized By all your complex games Sacrifice My own opinions change Justify Just why to stay with you I can't see why? Nothing else for me to doIt makes no sense Putting ourselves through all this At my expense Don't I deserve much less? It's way past time To right the wrong we're in The bottom line No way that we can winYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictYou brought on all this mess (You brought it all)

My needs were not addressed (All on yourself) You caused so much distress (You're strange to me) This much you must admitYou brought on all this mess (You brought it all) My needs were not addressed (All on yourself) You caused so much distress (You're strange to me) This much you must admitYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictYou've changed Everything about you is strange Look at yourself, you've changed With the facts in your face It's causing conflictI'm not the one who changed I'm not the one who changed

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/