Summerbreeze

Stone

It might have been a while
Since you've been loved
Like you should be lovedIt might have been a while
Since you've been kissed
Like you should be kissedIn tender loving arms
Might be something you missWell summerbreeze is blowing through your window
And summerbreeze is blowing through your hair
And something in your eyes that you cannot disguise
Don't tell me it ain't thereIt might have been a while
Since you've been loved
By one who really loves youIt might have been a while
Since you could trust
That someone really caresWhen people like us
Meant to go 'round in pairsSummerbreeze is blowing through your window
And summerbreeze is blowing through your hair
Something in your eyes that took me by surprise
Don't tell me that it ain't there
