On Ice

Sean Watkins

Feet don't slip beneath me now, careful as I walk around
Gingerly 'cause I'm on ice
I didn't see the season change, looked up and saw nothing the same
So please why don't you fill me in?We used to be so beautiful, everyday a waltz
We used to be so useful but now I see the faultsSecond guessing every step, every movement every stare
It didn't used to be this way
A happy face and then a sigh, tears that fall but quickly dry
But never do I wonder whyWe used to be so beautiful, everyday a waltz
We used to be so useful but now I see the faultsI'm almost there, I still care
Just a little scaredWe used to be so beautiful, everyday a waltz
We used to be so useful but now I see the faultsFeet don't slip beneath me now, careful as I walk around
Gingerly 'cause I'm on ice
